

Visions

The questions we are asking have to change. We must be bold enough to replace fear with hope, scarcity with plenty, and hate with love. Let's work together to make these changes by 2022, which marks The Hymn Society's 100-year anniversary.

Stop Asking: Will hymnals will be around in the future?

Start Asking: How can we equip the church to sing in the twenty-first century?

Stop Asking: Will denominations be around in the future?

Start Asking: How can the church build relationships and support mechanisms across our own internal divisions?

Stop Asking: Why is so much new music so bad?

Start Asking: Where are the new gems being created?

Stop Asking: Why can't we just sing what we know?

Start Asking: What are the saints of the past telling us today?

Stop Asking: Why don't people sing together anymore?

Start Asking: Where can I get people singing together?
